6. Eliminating discrimination

6.1

The school is aware of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and complies with non-discrimination provisions.

6.2 Where relevant, our policies include reference to the importance of avoiding discrimination and other prohibited conduct.

6.3 Staff and academy councillors are regularly reminded of their responsibilities under the Equality Act, for example during meetings. Where this has been discussed during a meeting it is recorded in the meeting minutes.

6.4 New staff receive training on the Equality Act as part of their induction, and all staff receive refresher training every two years.

7. Advancing equality of opportunity

7.1 As set out in the DfE guidance on the Equality Act, the school aims to advance equality of opportunity by:

- Addressing or reducing disadvantages experienced by pupils due to their specific protected characteristic, such as disabilities or exposure to homophobic bullying.
- Implementing measures to accommodate the specific needs of pupils with certain protected characteristics (e.g. arranging for pupils to pray at prescribed times).
- Promoting full participation in all activities by pupils with particular characteristics (e.g. encouraging all pupils to engage in a variety of school societies/clubs).

7.2 In fulfilling this aspect of the duty, the school will:

- Publish attainment data each academic year showing how pupils with different characteristics are performing.
- Analyse the above data to determine strengths and areas for improvement, implement actions in response and publish this information.
- Make evidence available identifying improvements for specific pupils groups, e.g. declines in incidents of homophobic or transphobic bullying.
- Publish further data about any issues associated with particular protected characteristics, identifying any issues which could affect our own pupils.

8. Fostering good relations

8.1 The school aims to foster good relations among people across all protected characteristics, regardless of whether they share the same characteristics by:

- Promoting tolerance, friendship and understanding of a range of religions and cultures through different aspects of our curriculum. This includes teaching in RE, citizenship and personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education, but also activities in other curriculum areas. For example, as part of teaching and learning in English/reading, pupils will be introduced to literature from a range of cultures.
- Conducting assemblies that address relevant topics, encouraging pupil leadership and participation, and inviting external speakers to enhance learning.
- Engaging with the local community by inviting local faith leaders to assemblies and organising school trips that explore local cultural and community resources.
- Promoting initiatives to address tensions among different pupil groups such as encouraging inclusive participation in school activities such as sports clubs and pupil leadership teams.

- Collaborating with parents to enhance understanding and appreciation of different cultures.
- Developing connections with experts and groups possessing specialist knowledge about specific characteristics to enhance and inform our school's approach.

9. Equality considerations in decision-making

9.1 The school ensures it has due regard to equality considerations whenever significant decisions are made.

9.2 The school always considers the impact of significant decisions on particular groups. For example, when a school trip or activity is being planned, the school considers whether the trip:

- cuts across any religious holidays;
- is accessible to pupils with disabilities; and
- has equivalent facilities for boys and girls.

9.3 The school keeps a written record (known as an Equality Impact Assessment) to show we have actively considered our equality duties and asked ourselves relevant questions. This is recorded at the same time as the risk assessment when planning school trips and activities. The record is completed by the member of staff organising the activity and is stored electronically with the completed risk assessment.

10. Equality objectives

Objective 1: To ensure that our curriculum reflects the rich diversities of the UK, our local area and of our school to meet the needs of our children.

Why we have chosen this objective: Fosse Mead serves a diverse community and we feel that it is important this community feel represented in the teaching. Alongside this, it is important to us that all pupils have an open and tolerant view of other cultures and communities. Finally, it is essential that pupils have a strong understanding of British Values and the Protected Characteristics which are woven throughout our curriculum

To achieve this objective, we plan to ensure that our curriculum features high quality examples of representation of a range of communities and culture; work alongside stakeholders to ensure they feel represented; and review our curriculum yearly to ensure it is fit for purpose.

Objective 2: To provide an environment that welcomes, protects and respects diverse pupils.

Why we have chosen this objective: our pupils belong in the Fosse Family.

To achieve this objective, we plan to have high expectations of behaviour through our behaviour policy; promote our academy values throughout the school; build a sense of belonging in each classroom; and be consistent in our approaches.

Objective 3: To reduce the gap in attainment for vulnerable learners across the core subjects and wider areas of the curriculum.

Why we have chosen this objective: through analysis of end of year and end of term data, it has been identified that some pupils in vulnerable groups are not achieving as highly as they could.

Additionally, we are aware as a school that the additional barriers these pupils face can have a detrimental effect on their progress and we must be proactive to avoid this.

To achieve this objective, we plan to provide additional analysis of pupil data; work in progress meetings to review strategies for all pupils; set ambitious but realistic targets for pupils; and prioritise vulnerable learners in interventions and wider school strategies for learning.

11. Monitoring arrangements

11.2 This document will be reviewed at least every 4 years.

11.3 The Equality Statement and Objectives template will be approved by the Board on behalf of the Trust and the Principal the version completed on behalf of the school.
